

Antoinette De Poi is pleased to announce the publication of :

inspirzd Wanderings : journey down the path

“This special collection of poems captures years of reflective thoughts and feelings expressed in my life’s work. I hope that reading them will inspire you to pen your own poetic journey of life.”

Antoinette De Poi

Please enjoy the following light-hearted example:

Springtime Funk

I hate the sunrise in the east,
Of bold and vibrant hue.
I loath the chirping of the birds,
I scorn the morning dew.

It hurts my eyes to look upon
This bright and balmy day.
I’d love to see that blue sky turn
All grisly and gray.

I hope for storm heads rolling in,
I long for pounding rain.
To view those cotton clouds drift by
Really gives me pain.

Other times I’m not like this,
But it is no passing quirk.
Because I can’t go out and play,
Since I got’ta go to work.

So, com’on Nature, do your worst,
Get it over with and done.
Then when the weekend rolls around,
We can ALL enjoy the sun.

Antoinette De Poi

This volume of poetry, as well as the first book in Ms. De Poi’s trilogy APPEAL to HEAVEN, entitled “Love’s Release, can be found at ChristianLoveNovels.com